ETHICAL GUIDELINES

Submission of a manuscript to JZ implies that all authors have read and agreed to its content. Research involving human subjects (including human material or human data) that is reported in the manuscript must have been performed in accordance with the Declaration of Helsinki of 1975, as revised in 2000 and must have been approved by an appropriate ethics committee. A statement detailing this, including the name of the ethics committee and the reference number where appropriate, must appear at the end of all manuscripts reporting research on human subjects. If a study has been granted an exemption from requiring ethics approval, this should also be detailed at the end of the manuscript. The authors must explain the rationale for their approach, and demonstrate that the institutional review body explicitly approved the doubtful aspects of the study. Further information and documentation to support this should be made available to editors on request. Manuscripts may be rejected if the editors consider that the research has not been carried out within an ethical framework. In rare cases, the editors may contact the ethics committee for further information.

For all research involving human subjects, informed consent to participate in the study should be obtained from participants (or their parent or guardian in the case of children) and a statement to this effect should appear in the manuscript.

For all articles that include information or images relating to individual participants, written informed consent for the publication of these images must be obtained from the participant (or their parent or guardian in the case of children) and a statement to this effect should be included in the manuscript. These documents must be made available to editors if requested, and will be treated confidentially.

For research carried out on animals, authors are encouraged to comply with the “Animal Research: Reporting In Vivo Experiments” (ARRIVE) guidelines and must comply with local or institutional ethics approval requirements on the care and use of animals for research. A statement detailing such ethics approval and/or guidelines must be included in the manuscript. Relevant information should be included in the article as outlined in the guidelines.

Authors who have done the project with the support of a company, should indicate this in the statement at the end of the manuscript.

JZ requires authors to declare any competing financial or other interest in relation to their work. All competing interests that are declared must be listed at the end of the manuscript.

Required statements at the end of the manuscript are:

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST (The authors declare that no conflicts of interest exist.)

FUNDING (The study was financed by ... )

ETHICAL APPROVAL (Received from the ... )

EDITORIAL WORK

The received manuscript is submitted by the editor to two international professional reviewers. After the reviewing process, the contribution is sent to the author for approval and consideration of corrections. During the editorial process, the secrecy of the contribution content is guaranteed. All the articles are language edited. Author receives in consideration also the first print, but at this stage corrigenda (printing errors) only are to be considered. Proofreading should be returned in three days, otherwise it is considered that the author has no remarks.

The journal office strives for rapid editorial process. Authors should adhere to the deadlines set by them in letters; otherwise it may happen that the article will be withdrawn from the editorial process. Any appeal of the authors deals the Editorial Board of the JZ.
